THE SHAD'S HOME RUSH.

A FINNY KING NOW RETURNING FROM OCEAN TO RIVER.

He is a Traveler from Remote Regions, but He Can Be Fooled with a Big and Gaudy Fly—He is Game and Affords Much Sport.

[Copyright, 1891, by American Press Association.]

The fishermen all over the country must be a very unappreciative class of men if at the present time they are not giving thanks for their blessings. In the cold and highly aerated waters of Maine the salmon, king of fresh water fish, is leaping cascades and breasting powerful currents in a return visit to his place of birth. In the rivers of Mississippi, Missouri, Kansas, Minnesota and of nearly all the states along the Ohio and Mississippi, splendid shad are returning, after an absence of three years in some waters no one can determine, to the inland waters where the Columbia placed them as eggs and milk. In Florida the magnificent sport of tarpon fishing is at its height, and along the Atlantic coast from Chesapeake bay to Cape Cod the alewives, or female shad, which precede the males into the fresh rivers, have made their appearance.

Time was when the shad, long known to many as the queen of all fishes for the table, was regarded as one that could be taken only with the net, and therefore unworthy the attention of the sportsman. As late as 1860 no angler ever dropped a line for them, and who first found that the shad will take a large, gaudy fly freely, and being a strong, powerful and active fish, afford fine play to the fisherman—who this benefactor was who deserves the gratitude of all Isaac Walton's children is not revealed.

CARBOLINEUM AVENARIUS.

A preservative against rotting, decay, fungus, etc., of wood and stone.
Will preserve any kind of wood above or under ground or water and prolong its life at least 100 percent.

Will keep off all sorts of insects, vermin or other enemies of wood.

Will prevent rats and mice gnawing wood coated with it.

Will force all moisture out of wood without closing the pores.

Will prevent shingles, coated with it, from rotting, cracking or warping.

Will prevent rope treated with it from rotting, causing it to remain pliable and excellent tar coating.

Tenedos will not attack timber coated with it.

Carbolineum avenarius does not contain acids or poisonous ingredients injurious to the fibres of wood.

The following is an extract from the London "Building World": "The directors of the Palatine Railways say of Carbolineum Avenarius: "Two boards cut from one and the same piece of pine, one of which for the sake of experiment was painted with Carbolineum Avenarius, and the other left unpainted, were buried, and after a lapse of three years dug up and examined. The result was, that the wood to which the Carbolineum Avenarius had been applied showed no signs of decay, whilst the other was found to be in a rotting condition."

As a wood preservative it has no equal.

For sale by
